BLACK HISTORY MOMENT...

Lieutenant Colonel Allen Allensworth (1842-1914)

Born into slavery in Kentucky in 1842, Allen Allensworth gained his freedom in the Civil War when the Forty-fourth Illinois Volunteer Infantry was camped in Louisville, Kentucky. Young Allensworth dressed in an old uniform, plastered mud over his face and marched boldly up Main street with the Union soldiers. After escaping he served as a civilian nursing aide with the Forty-fourth Illinois.

He later served a two year enlistment in the U.S. Navy and was Captain's steward and clerk on the civil war gunboat U.S.S. Tawah when it was destroyed in an engagement with Confederate batteries at Johnsonville, Tennessee.

After being honorably discharged from the Navy, Allensworth operated two restaurants with his brother William, taught in Freedman's Bureau schools in Kentucky, was ordained as a minister, and served as Kentucky's only black delegate to the Republican National conventions of 1880 and 1884.

After a two-year campaign in which he solicited the support of Congressmen John R. Lynch of Mississippi and Senator Joseph E. Brown of Georgia, President Grover Cleveland signed his appointment as Chaplain of the 24th Infantry Regiment.

While serving at Fort Bayard, New Mexico Territory, Allensworth wrote Outline of Course of Study, and the Rules Governing Post Schools of Ft. Bayard, N.M., which became the standard Army manual on the education of enlisted personnel.

On April 7, 1906, after twenty years of service, he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel making him the first black officer to receive this rank. In 1908 retired Chaplain Allensworth and four other black men formed the all-black town of Allensworth, California. Six years later, in 1914, Allensworth was crossing a Los Angeles street when he was killed by a motorcycle.

CSTM Presents Healthy Habits For the Month of May

Start a new workout program

Avoid a weight-loss or fitness plateau by varying your workout regimen. It takes your body between three and 12 weeks to get used to new exercise, and the fitter you are, the shorter that time frame. You want to experience a little soreness from your workouts, so as soon as you stop feeling that, it's time to switch things up.

Breakfast Every Day!

This month is when you commit to eating a healthy, balanced breakfast every day. Eating regularly is a great way to boost your metabolism.

The Cancer Support Team Ministry recognizes the following Cancer Awareness for the month of May:

- Brain Cancer Awareness Month (Grey)
- Melanoma and Skin Cancer Awareness Month (Black)
- Bladder Cancer Awareness Month (Marigold/Blue/Purple)

Thank You!

The family of Anthony & Terri Bazemore would like to thank all for their prayers, words of comfort, cards, blessings and support in the passing of my mother Rosa M. Bazemore. I thank all those in GLZBC for the overwhelming support that was given to my family and me. I am truly blessed to be a member of GLZBC, and I thank GOD for your love. Many blessings to all and I thank you. Sincerely,

Deacon Anthony M. Bazemore
