Sermon Outline
Some Folk Don’t Give Because… Part 2
2 Corinthians 9:6-11

Wealth Principles:
1. If you’re not in the room where changes are occurring, you’re stuck in the yard where consequences are received.
2. If you want to change the fruits, you will first have to change the roots. If you want to change the visible, you must first change the invisible.

1. The Principle of INVESTMENT

2. The Principle of IDENTITY

3. The Principle of INCREASE

4. The Principle of INTERVAL

This is my Bible. I am what It says I am. I have what It says I have. I can do what It says I can do. Today I will be taught the Word of God. I boldly confess that my mind is alert, my heart is receptive and I will never be the same. In Jesus’ name. Amen

Jackie Joyner-Kersee Biography
Track and Field Athlete, Athlete (1962–)
American track and field great Jackie Joyner-Kersee won three Olympic gold medals and numerous national titles during her record-setting career.

Who Is Jackie Joyner-Kersee?
Born in 1962 in East St. Louis, Illinois, Jackie Joyner-Kersee became one of the greatest athletes in American history. The first American woman to win an Olympic gold medal in the long jump and the first woman to compile more than 7,000 points in the seven-event heptathlon, Joyner-Kersee went on to win three golds, a silver and two bronze medals over four separate Olympics. She was named Sports Illustrated for Women’s top female athlete of the 20th century.

Olympic Stardom
Jackie Joyner-Kersee rose to fame through her dominant performances on the world stage of the Olympic Games:
1984 - Competing in her first Olympics, in Los Angeles, Joyner-Kersee earned a silver medal in the heptathlon, a seven-event competition that includes the 200-meter run, 800-meter run and 100-meter hurdles.
1988 - Building on her impressive showing at the 1986 Goodwill Games, Joyner-Kersee made a splash at the Seoul Games by accumulating a record 7,291 points in the heptathlon to win gold. Additionally, she became the first American woman to win gold in the long jump.
1992 - With her successful follow-up at the 1992 Barcelona Games, Joyner-Kersee became the first woman to win consecutive Olympic gold medals in the heptathlon. She added a bronze in the long jump.
1996 - Joyner-Kersee’s last Olympic run came in 1996, when she took home another bronze medal in the long jump at the Summer Games in Atlanta, Georgia. She did not compete in the heptathlon that year due to a pulled hamstring.

Other Records and Achievements
Along with her Olympic triumphs, Joyner-Kersee won four gold medals at the World Championships. She claimed the national heptathlon championship eight times and the national long jump title nine times, setting the American record with her leap of 24 feet, 7 inches in 1994. Joyner-Kersee also thrived in the hurdles, setting national records at distances of 50, 55 and 60 meters.

Family of Champions
Jackie Joyner-Kersee isn’t the only athletic star in her family; at the 1984 Olympics, where she won silver, her older brother, Al, won the gold medal in the triple jump.

In 1986, Joyner-Kersee married her coach, Bob Kersee, who was also training sprinter Florence Griffith Joyner. "Flo-Jo" married Al Joyner the following year, before winning three golds at the 1988 Olympics. Al Joyner also briefly served as his wife’s coach, before her retirement in 1989.
Later Career and Retirements
After announcing her retirement from track in the summer of 1998, Joyner-Kersee briefly attempted a career as a professional basketball player. She soon came out of retirement with the goal of making the U.S. Olympic team for the fifth time, but fell short at the 2000 Olympic trials. In February 2001, she formally retired for good, at age 38.

Early Hardship and Athletic Success
Jacqueline Joyner-Kersee was born on March 3, 1962, in East St. Louis, Illinois. The daughter of teenage parents, she endured financial hardship while growing up, but soon rose above the pack with her athletic prowess.

As a teen, she won the National Junior Pentathlon championships four years in a row, and received widespread honors in high school in various sports, including track, basketball and volleyball. Joyner-Kersee thrived as a basketball and track-and-field star, however, and during her junior year, she set the Illinois high-school long jump record for women, with a 6.68-meter jump.

Joyner-Kersee attended the University of California, Los Angeles on a full scholarship, and continued to gain fame on both the court and field. However, in 1981, at the age of 19, she began to focus on training for the Olympics, specifically for the heptathlon. She later graduated from UCLA in 1985.

Awards and Honors
Among her many accolades, Joyner-Kersee won the 1986 James E. Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athlete, as well as USA Track & Field's Jesse Owens Award in 1986 and '87. In 1999, she was named the greatest female athlete of the 20th century by Sports Illustrated for Women, and in 2004, she was inducted into the USA Track & Field Hall of Fame.

Post-Track Career
Having created the Jackie Joyner-Kersee Youth Center Foundation, to encourage underprivileged youth in her hometown to play sports, the athletic great devoted more time to the endeavor in retirement. In 2007, she helped establish Athletes for Hope, along with other champions like Andre Agassi, Muhammad Ali and Mia Hamm. This organization aims to "educate, encourage and assist athletes in their efforts to contribute to community and charitable causes," according to its website.

Joyner-Kersee joined the board of USA Track & Field in 2012. In 2016, she became a spokesperson for the cable TV company Comcast.

CSTM Presents Healthy Habits For February
Increase Your Aerobic Exercise. It's still winter so exercise is important to keep a healthy state of mind, as well as a healthy body. Work to increase your daily or weekly aerobic exercise tally. It could be adding 10 more minutes a day, or adding a whole new day to your current regimen.

Keep a food diary! Tracking your meals can make you more conscientious about what (and how much) you're really eating, and where you can make smarter choices. Tools like MyFitnessPal are great for keeping track of the foods you eat and for getting more familiar with how many calories they actually contain.

Thank You!
To Pastor Murphy, First Lady Murphy, Rev. Chandler, Rev. George and my Greater Little Zion Family and Friends. Thank you all for the love and support shown to my family and me during this very difficult time. We greatly appreciated the warm thoughts expressed in your letters, sympathy cards, text messages and telephone calls. Thank you for the beautiful plant which will remain in my sister's home for many years to come. It's at difficult times like these that we stop to realize how fragile and beautiful the gift of life truly is. I am grateful to have all of you in my life.

Peace, love and blessings to each of you.
Dottie Henson & the Family of Shirley Lee

Thank You!
Dear Pastor & First Lady Murphy, Rev. Estelle Chandler, Deacons, Bro. Rob Fairchild, Bro. Percy O'Neal, the Male Chorus, Dea. Terri Bazemore, Zion Praise Dancers, GLZBC Church family and friends: A thousand plus words could never fully express our extreme gratitude to all of you for the abundant outpouring of love, support and encouragement to us during the recent home going of our dear mother/loved one, Sis. Beverly Jones.

Our utmost thanks to each of you for all your heartfelt prayers, telephone calls, texts, social meeting condolences, cards, generous donations, meals and more! Thank you also to everyone who participated in any way and were able to attend her memorial Celebration of Life services.

Special thanks to Sis. Cynthia Hill for all her patience and kindness as she responded to the multitude of calls to help plan the service and the printed program.

Last, but certainly not least, thank you to Sisters Terri Henderson, Denise Snowden, Carmen Holt and the entire Hospitality Committee for all your planning, beautiful and bright decorating, and hard labor in the cooking and gracious serving of the delicious and wonderful repast meal.

Sincerely, the Hubbard/Jones Family

Ag Discovery Program
Sharing is caring! Please inform your relatives, congregation and youth mentoring group the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) is offering amazing opportunities for middle and high school students (grades 7th - 11th) looking for a unique summer internship with an opportunity to live and study on a college campus. Online applications must be submitted before midnight ET on March 20, 2020. Mailed Applications must be postmarked by March 20, 2020.

AgDiscovery is a unique opportunity designed for students to gain first-hand knowledge at the many career paths open to them in the agricultural sciences. For those interested in an agricultural career, AgDiscovery is a great way to get started. There is no cost to attend program because tuition, room and board, lab supplies, meals, and activity fees will be covered by APHIS. Students selected for the program are only responsible for costs that may be associated with traveling to the university campus on opening day and returning home at the conclusion of the program on closing day.

To learn more about this year’s program, including dates, locations, cost information, eligibility, and how to apply, please go to https://agnr.umd.edu/admissions/ag-discovery-program. Applicants will be notified the week of April 20, 2020 if they have been selected for this summer’s program, and non-selected applicants will receive a letter in the mail at the end of May.

Who Should Apply
- High school students looking to improve their resume for college
- Teachers looking for opportunities to expand their students’ view of agriculture
- Parents looking for learning opportunities for their teenager
